Witnesses Testifying From Experience In Operating Traction Lines Tell Federal Electric Railway Commission Story of Failure to Make Both Ends Meet—Sound Warning of Approaching Crisis Unless Public Sentiment Permits Collection of Higher Fares—Attempts At Compromise Fail to Avert Strike of Rhode Island Company Employees—No Attempt Will Be Made to Operate Cars.

Washington, July 18.—Witnesses testifying from their experience in operating traction lines since the beginning of the present era of high prices told the federal electric railway commission today the story of failure to make ends meet in the industry and renewed the warning of an approaching crisis unless public sentiment permits the collection of higher fares to cover the cost of greater revenues for their services.

By securing testimony bearing upon results in operation and Altona, Pa., and the Delaware and Potomac Electric Railways, the commission endeavored to show that higher fares had solved the problem in localities where tried.

Francis H. Sisson, vice president of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, ascribed most of the difficulties of the street railways to a decline of 25 per cent since 1914 in the purchasing power of a dollar.

"Public authorities facing this situation," he said, "should realize that they are holding in their hands the credit of their savings banks, life insurance companies and investment institutions."

A. H. Ford, an official of the Portland, Maine, Traction Corporation and C. L. S. Sagley, president of the American Railways Company, operating in Scranton, Altona and Wilmington, both cited increases in earnings ranging around 35 and 40 per cent, which resulted from dropping the nickel fare and charging passengers six and seven cents.

Discusses Senate Fight With Wilson

President "Very Cheerful" Over Outlook—Rep. Senators Ask For Information.

Washington, July 18.—President Wilson talked over the peace treaty with four more republican senators of the White House today and later he went to the capitol and discussed the entire situation with Senator Hitchcock, leader of the administration forces in the ratification fight.

The republican senators asked for information about many features of the treaty and Senator Hitchcock told the president of other points that have come into dispute during the debate. At the end of the day of conferences Mr. Wilson told a group of correspondents he was satisfied that a real solution was only necessary to "clarify counsel."

There had been many misunderstandings about the treaty, the president said, adding that some of the constructions placed on it seemed to him evident misinterpretations.

Senator McNary, Oregon, one of the republicans who went to the White House, said first impressions about the Shantung settlement had been softened by his talk with the president, while Senator Capper, Kansas, said Mr. Wilson had given him much new and pertinent information on that subject.

Senator Kellogg, Minnesota, and Kenyon, Iowa, the others who saw the president, declined afterwards to talk. Senator McNary has been a supporter of the League of Nations while the other three never have taken a definite stand regarding it.

"I found myself practically in accord with the president regarding the principles of the league," said Mr. McNary, "though I had not still have reservations regarding the effect of reservations."

"The president was very ready to give information about the negotiations," Mr. Capper said, "and he has a great deal of it, especially regarding the Shantung question."
